GRATA International in Southeast Asia

Southeast Asian countries have a great economic potential and continue to grow even in challenging conditions. Ambitious companies of this region seek new markets and are ready to invest globally and especially in Eurasia. This is exactly why GRATA International starts proactive marketing efforts in this prospective region through its representative in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Following GRATA International's business strategy, we strive to be as close as possible to our clients in order to interact with them efficiently and expeditiously. The location of Kuala Lumpur is optimal for communication with any large city of Southeast Asia. This, in conjunction with GRATA International's representative in Beijing, will provide coverage of the entire Asian region.

Aidar Sarymsakov, Senior Partner: "We are naturally optimistic and we believe that energetic, ambitious and goal-oriented people create their own business opportunities. We know that for success you need a goal, an effective business model, a reliable system and talented hard-working people. By attracting such talent, our team grows stronger every time."
