Dimitri Papadopoulos, Executive Director of GRATA International about his life journey and professional experience

Dimitri Papadopoulos, Executive Director of GRATA International, in the framework of interview, shared his life journey and professional experience:

- So, Dimitri, tell us a little bit about yourself. Your surname suggests Greek roots. Is that correct?
- How long have you been practicing law?
- In which areas of law do you specialize?
- In what year did you become the head of the GI Association? And why did you agree to lead this organization?
- What is your relationship with the Chairman of the Global Council?
- What are the plans for the Association?
- What do you enjoy about working for the Association?
- In what form is the Association established, and why?
- In which city is it registered, and why specifically there?
- The Integration Center is a 100% subsidiary of the Association. Why was it created like that? What is the purpose of this Center, and what is your relationship with it?
- How do you envision the future development of the Association?
- What would you like to wish all your colleagues who are members of your Association?
- What would you like to wish to those considering becoming members of the GI Association?
