The Women, Business and the Law Report is a publication of the World Bank Group that benchmarks business regulation in 190 countries worldwide. Women, Business and the Law 2020 is the sixth in a series of reports that provide objective measures of legal and regulatory barriers to women's entrepreneurship and employment.

Women, Business and the Law 2020 tracks how the law affects women at various stages in their lives, from the basics of transportation to the challenges of starting a job and getting a pension. Governments can use the Women, Business and the Law index to identify legal impediments to women's economic opportunities. The latest study tracks legal equality between men and women in 190 economies.
