GRATA International took part in the session for regulated ancillary service provider (ASP) firms

On 24 February 2020 in the Astana International Financial Centre, the session for regulated ancillary service provider firms was held by Astana Financial Services Authority

Training sessions for law and consulting firms about registration and authorization processes was attended by over 40 representatives of firms.

Liya Akzhanova partner of the law firm represented the GRATA International on session about registration and authorization processes. She shared her opinion that the session has a practical application for the consultants and advisers, and it was useful due to the direct contact and channel with authorization team.

The event was aimed at raising awareness of AFSA's authorization function to the regulatory environment, compliance with regulatory and anti-money laundering rules.
