Exemption on social payments from the wage-fund extended

In April 2020, the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan adopted a number of measures to support taxpayers, including the exemption of some business entities from taxes and social payments from the wage-fund¹, read more about this in our early review here².

On 5 November 2020, the Resolution of the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan was published³, extending the exemption from social payments, as follows:

From 1 October 2020 to 1 January 2021, the "0%" rate:

- ▶ obligatory professional pension payments;
- ▶ social contributions;
- ▶ payments and contributions on obligatory social health insurance, except of those paid by individual entrepreneurs for themselves.

are applied to the following taxpayers and their employees:

- ▶ private notaries, private enforcement agents, lawyers, professional mediators;
- ▶ micro, small and medium-sized businesses, operating in the area of car retail, hotel and restaurant business, real estate rental, legal services, school and preschool education, fitness clubs, medical services, passenger air transport, airport activities, movie theater, software etc⁴.

The regulation came into force on 1 October 2020.
